Poseidon for UML 2.1 released

Dear Poseidon User,

Poseidon for UML 2.1 is now available! We worked hard on stability, performance, and the integration of additional code generation languages. Additionally, we just have launched our UMLdoc Online Service.

Features of Poseidon for UML 2.1

We received lots of constructive feedback in the last few weeks, and integrated your requirements into our software:

- . Stability: About 70 issues and 30 wishes from you have been taken on by our team since version 2.0.4. A detailed list can be found at http://www.gentleware.com/products/change_log.php4
- . Performance: We reduced the time required for saving files by a factor of four, and several more performance improvements have been made throughout the Poseidon tool.
- . Usability: The birdview rectangle can be manipulated, multiple stereotypes can be given to every element.
- . Additional Language Support: The Professional Edition now includes SQL DDL, Perl, and Delphi code generation. Existing code generators have been updated to generate more detailed documentation.
- . Source Code Preview: No longer exclusive to Java, it is now available for all provided languages.
- . Localization: Poseidon can now also run in Russian and simplified Chinese.

NEW: UMLdoc Online Service - documentation generation via our website

As of today, we are offering a free UMLdoc Online Service to users of all of our Poseidon Editions. Now you can share project documentation with anyone, even if you have an edition that does not include UMLdoc. Just upload your Poseidon project file and view the UMLdoc output shortly after at <http://www.uml doc.org/>.

Benefit from the latest UMLdoc updates without waiting for a Poseidon release, use our free documentation web-hosting service, and share your documentation with your team! To upload your project files to our UMLdoc Online Service, please register at <http://www.gentleware.com/mygentleware/>

UML Seminars and Knowledge

Would you like to step into UML modeling, led by professionals? Our 2 day seminars provide an introduction to the world of modeling using UML. We offer seminars for experts or teams as well as in-house coaching and customized solutions. You will find more details containing content, times, and prices of the upcoming seminars at our website: <http://www.gentleware.com/knowledge/seminars.php4>.
