New release of Poseidon for UML

Dear Poseidon User,

Now that European Poseidon users have had the chance to see live Poseidon presentations during the last few months, we are now bringing our roadshows and events to the USA. But no matter where in the world you are, you can always profit from the brand new topics featured in this newsletter:

Poseidon for UML 2.4 Released

Check out our new release Poseidon for UML 2.4. Our last release 2.3 already offered the UML 2.0 look and feel. The 2.4 release now includes improved selection possibilities with a new selection bar and reorganized detail tabs. Enjoy the smooth handling and view the most important changes from our animated viewlet.

Embedded Enterprise Edition

Realtime collaboration is now available to embedded system developers with the Embedded Enterprise Edition of Poseidon for UML. The advantages of a UML tool for small systems with 8 and 16 bit controllers can now be shared among team members, regardless of where they are physically located. Evaluate the Embedded Enterprise Edition free of charge today and create your own synergistic collaborations.

Tip of the Month

Did you know? Poseidon for UML 2.4 includes new selection options from a more efficient Details Pane. Multi-select now displays the types of selected elements from the new Selection Bar, as well as providing access to multiple shortcut buttons that were previously available only from the Properties Tab. Learn how you can speed up your work using these new features by taking a look at the feature viewlet.
